Norway's wild and dramatic coastline is uniquely suited for an expedition-style adventure. Sailing here for almost 130 years, we're the experts, and we use our special knowledge to show you both its highlights and its hidden gems, exclusively handpicked by those who know it best.

Join an expedition cruise in Norway from Hamburg or Dover and sail into the Arctic Circle, as far up as the Lofoten Islands, Tromsø, and the North Cape. This season our expedition cruises in Norway may also explore areas in the remote Svalbard Archipelago or the White Sea of Russia! These expeditions are the perfect choice to uncover the very best of the stunning Norwegian coast—and beyond!

More to explore

Norway is our home, and we know it better than anyone. We recently developed new itineraries that include our personal favorites along the coast. We'll take you to special spots few know about, let alone visit.

Our ships will dock for a half day or a full day at each port, giving you several hours to truly experience each locale. Most days will also feature an included activity. You'll also have a wide range of optional excursions from which you can choose to participate.

All the wonders of the coast

Explore some of Norway's best fjords on our expedition cruises, including the Geirangerfjord, Sognefjord, and Hjørundfjord. Go to the top of the European continent at North Cape. Beyond Reine, Norway's most photographed fishing village, and enjoy concert at the Northern Lights Cathedral in Alta. Visit ruggedly beautiful islands such as Senja, Træna, and Værlandet—hidden treasures of Norway that few get to visit.

During the winter season in Norway (between October and March), the mesmerizing Northern Lights dance across the night sky, adding the possibility of an even more magical touch to our Christmas and New Year's sailings. Come summer, Norway becomes the land of never-ending daylight above the Arctic Circle—even at midnight. That's why it's called it the 'Midnight Sun'! Enjoy these extra sunlight hours to see even more of Norway, and perhaps even all the way to the High Arctic archipelago of Svalbard or the White Sea of Russia.

Experts by your side

The Expedition Team members will guide your discovery of the beauty and charm of Norwegian coast—and beyond! Through talks and lectures, they'll enhance your experiences with insights that can only come from intimate, local knowledge. You'll explore topics relating to Norwegian culture, history, food, wildlife, geology, and much more, depending on the locations you visit, such as the fascinating history of hunting in Svalbard or the history of Murmansk, the largest city in the Arctic and Russia's main northern seaport.

Homegrown on the coast

Norway is at the forefront of a culinary revolution. Fresh-as-can-be ingredients are grown and harvested all along the Norwegian coast and delivered directly to our chefs at the ports we visit. From handmade Lofoten artisanal cheeses to succulent king crab, you'll savor the finest foods of Norway.

Norway

May 2022 – March 2023

Discover Norway's coastline and fjords under the Midnight Sun or the Northern Lights.

Tromsø

A launching point for several historic Arctic expeditions, this international and cultural town is known for its bold architecture, history, and one of the northernmost breweries in the world.

Senja

Listed by CNN as one of the 10 most beautiful islands in the world, Senja is sometimes referred to as 'Norway in miniature' because of its diverse landscapes that represent the best of Norway.

Reine

This picture-perfect fishing village with fisherman's cabins beneath sharp, gray granite mountains is one of the most photographed landscapes in all of Norway.

Træna

Is an archipelago of over 400 islands right on the Arctic Circle, including a community with an unusual 'Nordic-Hawaiian' vibe. There's even a local 'Waikiki Beach'.

66°33'N Arctic Circle

Ålesund

This charming coastal city of cobblestone streets and Art Deco architecture also offers a hike with a great view over the city and a visit to Norway's first marine science center.

Atlantic Ocean

Svolvær

Take a walk around the largest town in Lofoten to see wooden racks for drying fish, fisherman's cabins, galleries, and shops at the foot of dramatic mountains.

Hjørundfjord

Is a dramatic fjord surrounded by the towering Sunnmøre Alps. It has been consistently voted as one of the top Norwegian fjords by visitors due to its majestic scenery.

Bergen

Enjoy Bergen's UNESCO-listed Bryggen district and the Bergenhus fortress to the famous fish market, the aquarium, and the Fløibanen funicular.

Fjærland

This tiny hamlet deep in Norway's longest fjord is a designated 'Norwegian Book Town', where you can also explore an arm from the largest glacier on the European continent.

Hardangerfjord

Along Norway's second longest fjord are glaciers, quiet villages, and picturesque apple orchards used for making delicious cider that the region is famous for.

North Sea

North Cape

At 71°10'21"N, the North Cape plateau is just about 1,300 miles away from the Geographic North Pole.

Alta

Besides optimal conditions for experiencing the Northern Lights, this is also a great place for winter activities, such as snowmobiling, dog sledding, and mountain hiking.

Narvik

An important site during World War II, Narvik has been rebuilt into a city of galleries, shops, and restaurants specializing in locally sourced seafood.

Go wild in Norway

Norway's northerly location, sprawling coastline, and diverse ecosystems have created a unique habitat for many species that don't live anywhere else. Norway is a land with more wildlife than people. Outside of the cities of towns, a vast wilderness exists for you to discover.

A whale of a time

On your expedition along the Norwegian coast, you'll have a chance to see the wildlife of the Far North, from whales to birds of prey, in pristine surroundings. Plankton blooms, caused by long summer days, attract various whale species, including pilot, minke, humpback, and sperm whales, as well as orcas.

Seeing these creatures heave their huge frames out of the water is an awesome sight!

Iconic animals

You might see one of Norway's most beloved animals, the majestic reindeer. As long as their surroundings are calm and still, they'll happily graze around you and even pose for photos

(if their Sámi owners are nearby). Norway also has a spectacular array of bird species, including adorable puffins, nicknamed the 'clowns of the sea'. Fifteen different birds of prey species are found here, including the mighty White-tailed Eagle.

A skeleton on the outside - Mainly made of calcium, a king crab's shell is actually its skeleton. They'll even molt this skeleton and grow new ones a few times in their 20- to 30-year life cycle. This tough carapace acts as a natural shield against predators such as cod, halibut, and octopuses. The weight of the skeleton (which can reach up to 24 pounds!) means that king crabs can't swim. Instead, they must clamber slowly along the sea floor with their long limbs.

The fish that built Norway - For more than a thousand years, Vikings produced and ate dried cod, and even used it for trading. This makes it Norway's oldest export. The word 'skrei' comes from the Norse word 'skreið', which means 'fish that wanders'. And wander it does! Every winter and spring, cod migrate in large numbers to the Norwegian coast, sustaining the livelihoods of the local people. Dry fish production and trade still thrives in Norway today, such as in the Lofoten Islands.

A big head - Sperm whales are renowned for their large head and prominent forehead. In fact, they have the largest brain of any known mammal in existence today. But in addition to their brain, scientists have found that their heads also hold considerable quantities of an oily substance called spermaceti. What's its purpose? Scientists don't know for sure, but one theory is that it aids the animal's buoyancy.

Along the Norwegian coast, every season has something unique to offer. You'll be spoilt for choice in the programme of included and optional activities available on your expedition, catering to different interests and activity levels. After exploring this stunning land, the Norwegian love of nature and the great outdoors will be sure to rub off on you too.

SEASONAL AND COASTAL ADVENTURES IN NORWAY

Shore excursions*

There's no better way to experience Norway than through our wide range of optional shore excursions. Join a thrilling dog-sled ride, visit UNESCO-listed World Heritage Sites or hike to the world famous Preikestolen for panoramic views over Lysefjord. You can also take part in cultural experiences like meeting the indigenous Sámi herders and visiting the fishing communities of Lofoten.

* Please note that these are optional activities and an additional cost applies.

FORMING NORWAY'S FAMOUS FJORDS

DISCOVER with us

Map illustration: Øystein Relbo-Knutsen for Hurtigruten

Few Norwegian words have permeated languages around the world, but the word 'fjord' has certainly ventured far beyond Norwegian borders. The word stems from the Norse word 'fjödär' for 'crossing' and from the verb 'to travel'.

Icons of the Norwegian Coast

Fjords exist in several countries, but the Norwegian ones are particularly impressive. The landscapes surrounding these fjords range from fertile hillsides to towering mountains with breathtaking waterfalls. In the valleys above the fjords, you'll sometimes find glaciers that open into rivers of green, glacial water that flow directly into the fjord.

The Sognefjord is a well-known Norwegian fjord. Not only is it the longest and deepest fjord in Norway, but it's also the second longest and deepest fjord on the entire planet. Its greatest depth is at 4,290 feet, but is only 490–650 feet deep at its mouth.

The Nærøfjord is one of the world's narrowest fjords, and, in 2004, National Geographic called it 'the world's top unspoiled travel destination'. It's also included on UNESCO's World Heritage List, alongside the well-known Geirangerfjord.

There are many other fjords also worthy of mention, including the Hjørundfjord. Surrounded by the Sunnmøre Alps, it's a hidden gem. The Hardangerfjord is particularly attractive in the springtime, fringed with apple orchards in full bloom. And the small, narrow Trollfjord is nestled among the picturesque Lofoten Islands.

Norway is renowned for the many majestic fjords that feature along its stunning coastline. But what exactly is a fjord and how is it created?

Nature's masterpieces

The creation of the Norwegian fjords is a story of powerful elements and forces in motion over a long period of time. The key to the creation of Norway's fjords is the many glaciers that covered the country during glacial periods over the last 2.6 million years. The slow and consistent grinding of these huge masses of ice with meltwater over millennia has deepened the valleys to create long, narrow inlets between the mountains, which were eventually filled in by the sea.

The sea is also an important factor in the fjords' formation. When the sea meets a glacier arm, a slow meltdown begins. Ice, meltwater, sand, and rocks course into the ground, even deeper than sea level, using the elements' immense pressure to push down and forward. Because of this, fjords are often deeper than the ocean surrounding them.

Fjord estuaries are often shallower than the fjords themselves, and this is typically where the gravel and sand end up and form an embankment. These embankments are a clear reminder of the powerful forces that once created these magnificent landscapes.

An integral part of coastal culture

In comparison to life by the open sea on the coastline, the tranquility of a fjord landscape is striking. The landscapes of mountains and hillsides is shielded from the icy wind and extreme weather that can ravage the outer coast. That's one of the reasons why people have settled by the fjords for centuries.

The fjords in Norway are also breeding grounds for fish species such as herring, cod, and haddock, especially in the north. As a result, many livelihoods here revolve around fishing. Still, the ocean waters by the coast generally have greater diversity of life, partially due to the lower content of zooplankton in the fjords. This is especially the case in the deeper fjords.

We humans are naturally captivated and inspired by nature, with its power, tranquility, and beauty. To experience all of these marvels, Norwegians need to look no further than the fjord that lies at their doorstep. These glorious landscapes have fueled Norwegians' love of nature—and being in nature—as exemplified by the uniquely Norwegian concept of 'friluftsliv'.

Sail through iconic fjords

While traveling with us, you'll see some of Norway's most fantastic fjords, which will inspire you to experience for yourself what 'friluftsliv' is all about.

Sailing under the Midnight Sun

Australian Bronwen Pyle joined The Norwegian Coastal Express on a journey under the Midnight Sun, enjoying a glimpse of life in the Arctic during its brightest season.

Bronwen can't help but smile whenever she talks about her summer voyage in Northern Norway. Originally from the sleepy small town of Stanthorpe in Queensland, the 38-year-old lawyer has spent the last few years working in London. When her parents came to visit her and do a tour of Europe, she wanted them to have a family holiday to be remembered.

A summer's adventure

"For years, my parents talked about wanting to experience the Norwegian coast. I'd heard from friends that THE thing to do – to really get a sense of Norway and its coastline – was to take a trip with The Norwegian Coastal Express", Bronwen says enthusiastically.

"That summer we spent some fun and memorable weeks travelling through Europe and enjoying lazy summer days. But sailing the Norwegian coast stood out as the highlight of the trip. Especially because we got to experience the Midnight Sun together, something my parents had only heard about but never experienced."

When the day never ends

Bronwen booked them on a midsummer's southbound voyage which starts in Kirkenes, Northern Norway. They had the Midnight Sun accompany them for their first few nights. "The day kept on going and going, never getting dark, even all through the night. The non-stop day actually gave us even more time to admire the scenery on the route."

She continues, "On the first night, as the ship sailed past small cabins and hamlets, we noticed families hanging out in their gardens, eating and drinking till the middle of the night. Some of them even raised their glasses to us as we went by!"

"The second night, we were walking around the city of Tromsø at half past midnight, and there were still lots of people out and about. Some were just sitting on the terrace of bars and cafés, sunbathing, and chatting with their friends. It was a really nice atmosphere – relaxed but also with a bit of a buzz in the air."

One place in particular stood out for Bronwen and her parents. "The area around Svolvær in Lofoten was one of our favourite sightseeing spots. The landscape was fantastic, with crystal blue water, steep mountains, and white sandy beaches. It was cloudy that evening, but while we were taking pictures, the sky opened above us and shafts of sunlight beamed down. It was out of this world".

Special memories

Bronwen explains that the Midnight Sun also seemed to inspire life on board the ship. "Both the crew and other guests were so friendly – the extra sunlight probably made us all more cheerful!" she exclaims. "Being surrounded by spectacular views of the fjords and mountains glowing with sunlight 24-7 probably helped too!"

"Summer is also about the food, and I just loved the Norwegian ice-cream, cheeses, and chocolate!", she says with a chuckle. "But what I cherish most about the voyage was sitting on deck with my 80-year-old dad, chatting late into the night while taking in the constantly changing landscapes under the Midnight Sun. It was beautiful," says Bronwen with a warm smile. "Sharing that experience with him is a really special memory for me."

"The day kept on going and going, never getting dark, even all through the night. The non-stop day actually gave us even more time to admire the scenery on the route."

- Bronwen Pyle

Bronwen's five Midnight Sun tips:

1. The best place to experience the Midnight Sun is out on the ship's deck. You might want to get out there early in the evening to secure a seat and a good spot.
2. You'll probably be busy taking pictures of the incredible scenery. But remember to take time out from behind the lens to just be in the moment as well.
3. To keep awake, grab a coffee from the onboard bar. You can also get your caffeine fix at some of the ports and stretch your legs at the same time.
4. The extra hours of sunlight can make it hard to sleep. Burn off excess energy in the onboard gym or on optional excursions during the day.
5. The thick curtains in your cabin do a good job of blocking out the sunlight, but maybe bring an eye mask in case a few rays peek through.

NORWAY SUMMER EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM HAMBURG

Departing from Hamburg, you'll sail the spectacular Norwegian coast in spring, summer, or autumn. You'll visit Norway's best cities, fishing villages, tranquil fjords, and picturesque islands.

Seasons for sailing

Choose from three seasons to embark on this expedition along the Norwegian coast. Spring cruises in April and early May offer both sun and snow. New leaves sprout from the once-bare trees and an array of colorful flowers bloom.

Summer is when the Midnight Sun reigns supreme day and night, making the fjords and mountains appear even more vibrant. In fall, a special kind of late-September sunlight bathes the yellow- and rust-colored forests in hazy, golden hues.

Whichever season choose to cruise in, you're sure to fall in love with Norway's magnificent landscapes and unique culture.

Handpicked highlights of the Norwegian coast

In addition to visiting four of Norway's most charming cities, this expedition will sail you past spectacular landscapes along the Norwegian coast, including the Hardangerfjord, which is lined with apple orchards, and the idyllic fishing villages of the Lofoten Islands.

You can also stand at the dramatic cliffs of the North Cape and hike to the hole in Torghatten Mountain.

Our small ship size allows us to bring you to places few visitors get to see, such as the remote archipelago of Træna, the hidden Hjørundfjord, and the diverse, fairy-tale landscapes on the island of Senja. Join us!

FJORDS EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM DOVER

Explore five of Norway's most beautiful fjords on this springtime expedition cruise, sailing from Dover to the stunning Norwegian coast.

Norway's exceptional fjords

After embarking in Dover, we'll sail to Norway and the lush valleys of the Hardangerfjord, home to the prettiest apple orchards in Norway. Then, we'll visit the Sognefjord, which features idyllic villages and stave churches.

Next, we'll explore the magnificent Nærøfjord and Geirangerfjord. Both of these fjords are UNESCO World Heritage Sites and outstanding examples of dramatic fjordal features and landscapes. The Nordfjord will thrill you with its high peaks and glaciers.

We'll spend a day discovering the untamed nature of the remote island archipelago of Værlandet, an environment in total contrast with the fjords. We'll cap off our spectacular fjord adventure with an early morning sailing in the Lysefjord, where the iconic Preikestolen ('Pulpit Rock') viewpoint awaits you.

As we make our way back to Dover, we'll make one last call, at Côte d'Opale, France. Here, you'll enjoy breakfast and take a walk on the beach as the sun rises.

Spring is in the air

The fjords are magical in any season. But on this springtime expedition cruise, you'll witness the fjords awakening up from the dark winter months and the long, cold days of the Polar Night.

In the spring, the days grow longer and the sun warms the air. Snow still covers the mountains, but the thaw brings meltwater gushing down rock faces, creating beautiful waterfalls. Down in the valleys, pastures are green, fruit trees are in bloom, and the idyllic fjord villages emerge from hibernation.

MIDNIGHT SUN EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM DOVER

Sailing from Dover, this expedition cruise explores Norway's famous fjords, charming coastal cities, Arctic landmarks, and remote island archipelagos under the Midnight Sun.

The magical Midnight Sun

On this summer adventure, you'll have the opportunity to visit unique places, like the stunning Hjørundfjord, a pristine fjord few visitors get to experience, and Reine, a small village speckled with red fishermen's cabins.

Above the Arctic Circle in the High North, you'll experience the Midnight Sun, which creates endless days drenched in hazy, warm hues that light up Norway's fjords and mountains. Norway's atmosphere in the summer is very laid-back, buzzing with locals hanging out late into the night.

Norway's best-kept travel secrets

With Hurtigruten's unique advantage to sail close to the coast and land at places few expedition ships can, you'll have the opportunity to explore locations that are hard to reach.

You'll discover remote and rugged islands such as Værlandet, which has been shaped by the elements. See fishing villages and well-preserved idylls such as Træna and Senja.

In an early morning cruise sailing in Lysefjord, you'll be treated to spectacular views of the famous Preikestolen, 'Pulpit Rock'. The expedition ends back in Dover, but not before enjoying breakfast by the beach in Côte d'Opale, France.

AUTUMN EXPEDITION CRUISE TO SVALBARD FROM DOVER

Join us on an expedition cruise starting in Dover, traveling up the Norwegian coast, up to the Svalbard Archipelago, and then back down to Dover.

The beautiful Norwegian coast

Sailing from Dover, you'll first visit Lerwick, the capital of the Shetland Islands, before heading to the Norwegian coast. Your first stop in Norway will be the quiet fishing village of Kalvåg, with the islands and fjords of Trøndelag County and the Helgeland coast to follow.

Once you cross the Arctic Circle, the days are shorter and nights grow longer, improving your chances of seeing the magical Northern Lights.

The Svalbard Archipelago

We'll leave mainland Norway behind briefly as we venture to Norway's northernmost islands: the Svalbard Archipelago. We have unmatched experience in Svalbard, dating as far back as 1896. You'll see a range of Arctic birdlife on the 'Bear Island' and keep an eye out for polar bears at Hornsund. The Isfjord boasts dramatic landscapes, while Bellsund is filled with fascinating hunting and trapping history.

Your return to mainland Norway will be at the geologically varied island of Senja, which is followed by a visit to Svartisen, Norway's second largest glacier.

Before returning to Dover, you'll have time to explore the city of Kristiansund, as well as experience three glorious fjords: Sognefjord, Hjørundfjord, and Lysefjord.

NORWAY WINTER EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM HAMBURG

This winter expedition sails from Hamburg to fjords, cities, villages, and islands on the Norwegian coast, taking you deep into the Arctic and within the Auroral Zone.

Beyond the Arctic Circle

Setting off from Hamburg, we'll sail to Bergen. Views from the top of Mount Fløyen will be the perfect start to your exploration of glorious Norway.

Next, we'll sail the Nordfjord and explore Loen, nestled beneath Mount Hoven and not far from Norway's largest glacier.

Then you can admire ice sculptures and try a shot of aquavit at an ice bar in Svolvær, attend a concert at the Northern Lights Cathedral in Alta, and behold the cliffside scenery at the top of Europe: the North Cape.

More winter highlights

Then, we'll sail to cosmopolitan Tromsø, the 'Capital of the Arctic', where there are various winter excursions for you to choose from. Next, you'll learn about the importance of fishing to Norway in the picturesque Lofoten villages of Reine and Å.

In Ålesund, check out the city's remarkable Art Nouveau architecture or visit the Atlantic Sea Park, home to Humboldt Penguins, seals, and otters.

Lastly, at a village in the Hardangerfjord, toast to your thrilling winter adventure with a locally brewed cider before we head back to Hamburg.

NORTHERN LIGHTS EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM DOVER

Sailing from Dover on this Norwegian winter adventure, you'll visit cozy coastal communities and watch the Arctic sky for the glorious Northern Lights.

From the White Cliffs of Dover to Norway's Arctic ...

Board comfortable MS Maud in Dover bound for Norway. If winter weather on the North Sea doesn't delay us too much, we'll arrive in the bustling city of Bergen and ride the funicular to admire the panoramic views of Mount Fløyen.

Our next stop is Loen, at the foot of Mount Hoven, the summit of which has views of the Jostedalsglacier.

Then, relax at the Magic Ice bar in Svolvær and brush up on your British World War II history in Narvik.

... and back!

Alta, deep in the Arctic, boasts ideal skies for you to see the Northern Lights, perhaps even appearing above the striking Northern Lights Cathedral. Then, its onto Tromsø's Polar Museum, where you'll learn about the importance of this polar city and have the opportunity to enjoy optional winter excursions.

The fishing villages of Reine and Å, in the Lofoten Islands, are exceptionally pretty, and Kalvåg is a hidden gem few visitors get to see.

We'll stop off at Harlingen, the busiest port in the north Netherlands, before returning to Dover.

LATE AUTUMN EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM TROMSØ TO HAMBURG

Enjoy an autumnal adventure along the stunning Norwegian coast and down to vibrant Hamburg.

Beautiful landscapes and Norway's fjords

Sailing south after embarking from Tromsø, you'll witness the iconic beauty of the Lofoten Islands and visit the traditional fishing town of Svolvær. Savor the special atmosphere in this region as you learn about Viking history and bask in autumnal glory.

Farther south, more nature experiences await you as we sail to Torghatten, the mountain with a hole in the middle. Then, you'll explore the charming town of Brønnøysund.

You'll enjoy the fall hues, crisp air, and mountaintops dusted with fresh snow as we explore Norway's southern coast. You'll learn about glaciers, traditional farming, and what life is like in the picture-perfect villages nestled deep in the fjords.

Historic cities and picturesque islands

A full day in Bergen gives you time to enjoy its picturesque city center and the colorful old wharves in the UNESCO-protected Bryggen district. Or, take a trip on the Fløibanen funicular for panoramic views over the city. We'll also call on Egursund, which has colorful wooden houses.

After entering the North Sea, we'll arrive at the small German vacation island of Heligoland, where cars are banned and walkers rule.

Our cruise ends in Hamburg, sometimes called the 'Venice of the North' due to its canal system. Enjoy the many sights of Germany's second-largest city as the foliage in its many parks turns to red and yellow.

ARCTIC WINTER EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM DOVER

Join us on a one-way winter expedition to the stunning landscapes of the Norwegian coast, exploring its fjords, towns, and cities, while continually on the hunt for the magical Northern Lights.

Sailing north from Dover

Setting off from Dover, you'll spend a day in Harlingen, a harbor city in the Netherlands with a strong nautical heritage. Your first stop in Norway is in Bergen, where the Fløibanen funicular will take you to a viewpoint over 1,000 feet above sea level for wonderful view of the city. Don't miss the UNESCO-listed Bryggen district and its colorful wooden wharfs.

We'll continue on to the Sognefjord, the longest and deepest fjord in Norway. Here, you'll visit the tiny village of Fjærland, which isn't far from the largest glacier on the European continent: Jostedalbreen.

Next, we'll sail the breathtaking Hjørundfjord, surrounded by the Sunnmøre Alps, with peaks that tower up to 5,500 feet high, seemingly straight out of the sea.

Polar Nights and Northern Lights

The daylight hours shorten once we cross the Arctic Circle, replaced by a dim blue twilight that makes the snowy scenery of the coast even more magical.

We'll explore the picturesque Lofoten Archipelago and the town of Svolvær, its impressive granite mountains and jagged peaks looming as a dramatic backdrop. Next, you'll visit the war museum in Narvik to better understand the central role this town played during World War II.

After discovering the beauty of Vesterålen, your expedition cruise ends in Tromsø, known as 'Paris of the North' for its cosmopolitan atmosphere, and as the 'Gateway to the Arctic' for its long history of polar exploration.

INCLUDED ACTIVITIES

- Lecture program
- Settlement visits
- Short hikes and walks
- Science activities
- Art activities
- Photo lectures
- Viewpoint visits
- Glacier Center

THE ULTIMATE WINTER EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM DOVER

This extensive winter expedition cruise brings you to a wide range of Norway's coastal communities, snow-covered mountains, and fjords. All the while, we'll seek the ethereal Northern Lights.

Into the Arctic Circle

You'll journey from Dover, first to the canals of Harlingen, then to picturesque Bergen. From there, we'll sail into the spectacular Sognefjord and the hidden Hjørundfjord. Enjoy exploring the coast of the Trøndelag region before spending nine days above the Arctic Circle during winter, chasing the Northern Lights.

We'll remember British World War II heroes in Narvik and then head along the coast of Vesterålen, exploring this scenic area based on the local weather conditions on the day. You'll learn about polar exploration history in the Arctic capital of Tromsø, see the top of Europe at the North Cape, and admire the Northern Lights Cathedral in Alta.

Off the beaten track

The ship will continue south to discover geologically diverse island of Senja and the stunning Lofoten fishing village of Reine, surrounded by mountains dusted in snow. This expedition will also take you to Loen, at the heart of the Nordfjord, and to the remote, charming communities in Kalvåg and Klosterøy.

Before heading back to Dover, you'll spend a day in Amsterdam. Explore this cosmopolitan city on a canal boat tour. By the end of this great adventure into the Arctic, you'll likely to have made many special memories. Don't be surprised if you've fallen in love with the Norwegian coast, perhaps having witnessed the magnificent Northern Lights several times.

EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM THE NORTHERN LIGHTS TO DOVER

Embarking from Tromsø, deep in the Arctic, we'll seek the Northern Lights as we sail to the North Cape and then head south to Dover, exploring rarely visited Norwegian islands all along the way.

Arctic adventure

Your expedition cruise starts in the vibrant city of Tromsø. From here, we'll sail north to one of the northernmost points in Europe—the North Cape. Turning south, we'll dock in Alta, where you can participate in exciting winter activities and visit the impressive Northern Lights Cathedral.

Next, we'll arrive in Senja, rated one of the top ten most beautiful islands in the world for its diverse landscapes. With its impressive mountain range and snow-dusted, iconic red fishing huts (and perhaps the glorious Northern Lights swirling above), the village of Reine in the Lofoten Islands is understandably one of the most photographed landscapes in all of Norway.

Enchanting mountains and hidden gems

Continuing south, we'll sail the Helgeland coast, looking out for the Seven Sisters mountain range and the 'Troll Hat' mountain, with its eye-catching hole in the center. Then, we'll sail to the village of Loen, deep within the Nordfjord, not far from Jostedalsglacier, the largest glacier in Europe.

Continuing south, we'll sail to the charming fishing village of Kalvåg, which few visitors ever get to see. Our final destinations in Norway are the islands of Mosterøy and Klosterøy, which feature a World War II fort and a medieval abbey.

After an exciting winter expedition along the Norwegian coast, your journey takes you to Amsterdam, the Netherlands' vibrant capital, before coming to an end in Dover.

CHRISTMAS EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM DOVER

Make your Christmas and New Year's celebrations truly magical with an expedition along the beautiful Norwegian coast, bringing together yuletide traditions and the spectacular Northern Lights.

Christmas in Norway

Sailing from Dover, we'll reach Egersund on the morning of Christmas Eve, home to Norway's best Christmas market.

Then we'll journey deep into the Sognefjord to enjoy Christmas Day in the picturesque village of Fjærland. From there, we'll sail across the Arctic Circle to visit Svolvær, the largest town in the Lofoten Islands.

Basking in the ambient light of the Polar Night, we'll continue north to Narvik, a small town with key historical significance.

Next, we'll stargaze in Alta. Situated at 70° North, it's one of the northernmost towns in the world and one of the best places to see the Northern Lights, should they appear.

Start the New Year with an adventure

In the Arctic capital of Tromsø, you'll learn about the city's polar history and have the opportunity take part in exciting optional excursions.

We'll celebrate New Year's Eve surrounded by the spectacular scenery of the Lofoten Islands—a special highlight! Then, we'll spend our final days exploring the remote, rarely visited, charming island of Kalvåg.

As we sail back to Dover, you're sure to bring back many cherished memories of heartwarming Christmas and New Year's celebrations along the Norwegian coast.

NORTH CAPE AND NORTHERN LIGHTS EXPEDITION CRUISE FROM DOVER

Join us on a Northern Lights expedition along the Norwegian coast, to the top of Europe, at the North Cape, from Dover.

Community charm and culture

This expedition will take you to a variety of communities living and thriving on the Norwegian coast.

You'll visit the exciting cities of Bergen, Tromsø, and Ålesund, and get to know the local culture. Then, fall in love with the glorious Lofoten Islands at Svolvær and the picturesque fishing village of Reine.

You'll enjoy a trip to Åndalsnes, where you can explore Trollveggen, the tallest vertical rock face in Europe. Our ship also takes you where the big ships of other cruise lines can't sail, such as the hidden gems: the islands of Mosterøy and Klosterøy, which few visitors get to see.

Polar nights and Northern Lights

Expect short winter days and long polar nights as we sail north and cross the Arctic Circle to places such as Narvik, Alta, and the North Cape. Long polar nights offer the best possible conditions to experience the magical Northern Lights, the otherworldly phenomenon that has fascinated visitors, artists, scientists, and locals for centuries.

During the day, you'll have the opportunity to participate in optional winter-wonderland activities such as hiking, dog sledding, kayaking, and snowshoeing. In the evenings, relax and enjoy MS Maud's many amenities.
